Log in, print and delete documents at a printer

If you have sent a document to the print queue to print, you will need to login to print the documents.

See the instructions below on how to use the University printers to collect documents sent to print.

Log into a University printer using your university card

1. Go to the printer you want to print your documents from.

2. On the printer, place your University card against the card reader zone. Wait while you are logged in.

3. Press the Release button on the touch screen to view your selection of Held Documents.
Print your documents

On the touch screen you can choose to print all your documents at once, a selection of documents or a single document to print.

1. Choose the document(s) you want to print, or press Select All to print them all at once.
